Bose systems are designed to be set up by the average user, and the Companion 3 is no different. You'll need one additional cable, and the rest of the system will work with your television right out of the box. Plug the module's power cord into a wall outlet or power strip.

The plug is specific to the pod as it will only fit into one jack on the module. Place the speakers, one on either side of the television. Plug one end of the computer input cable into the other end of the adapter cable. Plug the other end of the computer input cable into the Input from computer jack on the back of the device. If you are a seller for this product, would you like to suggest updates through seller support Ever since then, Bose engineers have focused on creating better technology. Hear deep, crystal clear audio when listening to your favourite games, films and music on MP3, disc or the internet. You already use your computer as a big music and entertainment source. So, why settle for inferior audio quality, particularly if you're still stuck with those speakers you got with your computer. Specially engineered stands will get the most out of the system's sound performance and they'll save you much needed desk space. Multifunctional ease. Bose's computer speakers also come with a simple, multifunctional control pod roughly the size of a computer mouse. It puts everything you need at arm's length; single touch mute, speaker volume control, headphone jack and an auxiliary input for an extra sound source. Don't miss out on the audio experience you could be getting from movies and games. Don't ruin the pleasure you should feel when listening to great music.

Features Enjoy premium audio performance and freer desk space thanks to Bose's sleek desktop speakers, which come fully assembled on stands. A convenient control pod accommodates the single touch mute, volume control, headphone jack and connection for a second sound source, like an MP3 device. This module enables the desktop speakers to be tiny without compromising on sound quality. Specially designed for computer speakers, it delivers a spectacular sound environment for music, games and DVDs. Monitor interference and damage to magnetic media is prevented through magnetically shielded satellite speakers. Vivid sound quality can be enjoyed at practically all listening levels thanks to Bose own integrated signal processing technology. Compression circuitry keeps your music undistorted and clear even at the highest volumes. The low, middle and high frequencies are balanced through active electronic equalisation for the most lifelike tones and clearest sound. I decided that I really didn't need a 5.1 setup and my room doesn't require it anyway. Have been used on gaming, music, movies you name it, it does it with great finesse and vigor. As above, still sounds as good as when I brought them. Only complaint I have is the volume adjustment ring is a tad sensitive and also the speakers now screeches as I adjust the volume up and down.

I guess it much be wear and tear of the electrical components. Might try to look into replace the controller interface to see if it can be fixed as the speakers are still performing well. Easy to set up straight out of the box, it hooked up to the TV with little effort. The sound is amazing, although I wouldn't expect anything less from a company like Bose; and the 2 speakers can really blast it out when it comes to it. Like other users I have noted the humming the sub produces, but with a little bass adjustment this becomes a nonissue. The pod that comes with it is a smooth device, and very sensitive. Through my TV remote I can control the sound coming through the speakers and enhance it even more with the pod not sure how this works; it must be the TV, as my brotherinlaw has this system too and cant get that set up! as well as hook another device to it such as an ipod or netbook. A fantastic replacement for the meagre speakers you find in flat screens these days, and without the space consumption of a full 5.1 but capable of just as much. Definitely worth looking into. I read the reviews and thought this is exactly what I needed, great sound, minimum amount of wires and speakers. The sound quality is what youd expect from Bose excellent. My 7 in 1 system was louder, but the sound quality from the Bose speaker is a lot deeper and clearer. I would recommend to anyone thinking about updating their computer sound system. I anticipated these being great sound but having not heard them before purchasing i was anxious to see i had made the right choice but once i plugged the system in there was no confusion in my my mind, these speakers are amazing. The great bass from the sub combined with the clarity produced from the 2 smaller speakers makes for a great sound experience.

These maybe expensive but why buy several sets of cheaper speakers when you can just make the right choice first time round We have taken the stands off the two little speakers and they fit perfectly under our tv. We would definately recommend and have been telling all our friends about them. The sound fills the room and the depth of the output from the three speakers is amazing. In short I would say if you want to improve the quality of the soud you get from your existing equipment then this system is great value for money and would recommend it without reservation. Michael Salamone 3.0 out of 5 stars Its not the high end equipment bose makes them out to be Sorry. Its not going to make you happy If you are looking for loud speakers with rich highs and lows.I got quick shipping and everything was in the box. Even this model is good for just about anybody. I listen to my iTunes while work on computer and even had to use them for a party I threw. Good sound and can go loud if you need it. ThanksThe bass thumps even at the lowest setting. Play it at a reasonably mellow low volume, and youll notice how irritatingly tinny the satellite speakers are. I say where is the mid range. Wheres the mellow warm tones. I hate what this does to my music.

Plus the speakers cut in and out. Im sending it back.In order to navigate out of this carousel please use your heading shortcut key to navigate to the next or previous heading. The MediaMate included magnetic shielding so that they could be placed near a CRT computer monitor without causing the monitors image to distort. They had dual inputs and two sources such as a CD player and a computer game to be played simultaneously, with a dial to adjust the relative level of the two sources.The M3 was able to operate on battery power unlike the Computer MusicMonitor.Retrieved February 1, 2012.
